

"SEE YOU AROUND"

This was my last year as your President. It hardly seems fourteen years since being elected to the San Antonio WBA Board of Directors. I would like to thank everyone who has helped with SAWBA tournaments and committees during the six years I was president. While I feel sad that my terms are ending, you will be in good hands. Jane Wright will be an excellent President. Please give her your support in all SAWBA activities during the coming years. I will still be around bowling and helping if needed. So this is not good-by, but just "see you around", when I'm not traveling!

GOOD LUCK AND GOOD BOWLING TO ALL

Again, I want to express my appreciation for having Gail as our Secretary/Treasurer. She is dedicated and has the best interest of our Association as well as TWBA and WIBC at heart. THANK YOU, GAIL

Elsie Mitchell, Outgoing President

"BLUE RIBBON BREAKFAST"

Gail Cantu Secretary

It has always been said that Great Ideas come from a full Tummy. Well, not really but, this one time they did. One Sunday morning a couple of our board members were having a late breakfast at Denny's and discussing ideas for an Association poster. It had been a few years since we had submitted a poster to the Texas Women's Bowling Writers yearly contest held during the Texas Women's Bowling Association meeting weekend in June. The conversation rambled its way through all Association projects, meetings, etc. and finally came to a stop on their favorite project, BVL.

Pancakes came and went, eggs and bacon came and went. When lightning struck, like the cholesterol that had been eaten, BVL won out!! Ideas ran faster than the syrup on French toast and by the time the last drop of coffee had been drunk, they had a slogan.

THEY GAVE.....NOW IT'S YOUR TURN!

Pictures representing our country's major conflicts since WW I were found and assembled on poster board. Announcement regarding the BVL Tournament, which is held every year during league play, was inscribed and, on the bottom, along with a picture of the flag raising on Iwo Jima, was the slogan. When the awards were announced during the Writer's breakfast meeting (eggs and bacon), we were thrilled to be awarded 1st Place. Our reward for a job well done...association pride, a plaque and a BLUE RIBBON.

Remember them then-Remember them now.

San Antonio WBA by Debi Crockett

The San Antonio WBA held their 62nd Annual Championship City Tournament on November 11, 12, 18, and 19, 2000 and records were broken. Linda Urbanek, with a 217 high average during the 1999-2000 season and reaching an 801 in the TCBA, rolled a 654 in Team, a 693 in Doubles, and a 737 in Singles for an all time record of 2,084. The San Antonio WBA congratulated Linda and other ladies on their fine performances at the awards banquet which was held on December 17, 2000 at Astro Bowling Center. We also had a 300 game rolled by LaRonda Dixon. LaRonda entered the tournament with a 200 average and ended with a 701 series. The ladies have been bowling well this year.

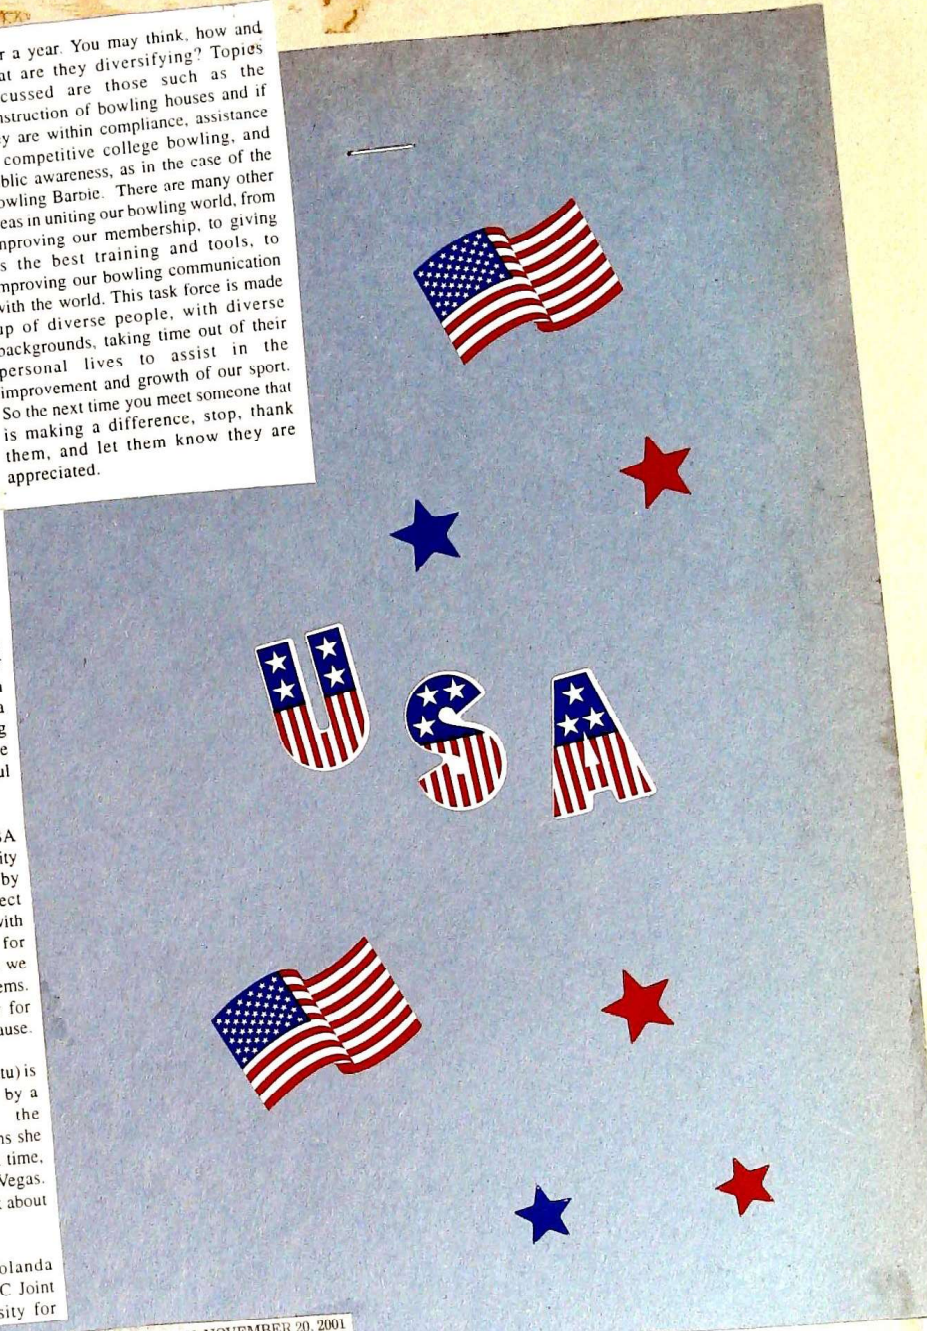

Both the San Antonio WBA and the San Antonio BA held a joint Christmas party at the Ft Sam Houston Golf Club house before the holiday. They enjoyed a delightful meal and socialized into the wee hours. Christmas gifts were not exchanged this year. In the spirit of the Christmas season, both associations participated in a worthwhile local program donating Christmas toys to less fortunate children in the city. What a wonderful gift from the heart!

For a third year, the San Antonio WBA was actively involved in their community project, "Trim-A-Tree", sponsored by Lacks Furniture Store. This project assists the San Antonio Food Bank with their collecting of canned goods for needy San Antonians. At last count we collected over 250 non-perishable items. We thank the bowling community for their generosity for such a worthy cause.

F.Y.I..... Our Ms. G (aka Gail Cantu) is a TV star! She was interviewed by a local TV network during the Thanksgiving travel rush. It seems she was at the right place at the right time, the airport, returning from Las Vegas. So, the next time you see Gail ask about her TV debut.

One of our Directors, Yolanda Barrientes, has been on a WIBC Joint Committee concerning Diversity for over a year. You may think, how and what are they diversifying? Topics discussed are those such as the construction of bowling houses and if they are within compliance, assistance in competitive college bowling, and public awareness, as in the case of the Bowling Barbie. There are many other areas in uniting our bowling world, from improving our membership, to giving us the best training and tools, to improving our bowling communication with the world. This task force is made up of diverse people, with diverse backgrounds, taking time out of their personal lives to assist in the improvement and growth of our sport. So the next time you meet someone that is making a difference, stop, thank them, and let them know they are appreciated.

Tondre brings home city women's crown

BOWLING

Overtaking the top all-events score in Division 1 wasn't on Phyllis Tondre's mind as she rolled the final shifts of the San Antonio Women's Bowling Association's city bowling tournament, which concluded its two-weekend run Sunday at Wonder Lanes and University Bowl centers.

"I thought to myself, 'Allison Hendrick's 2,002 total was a powerful total,'" said Tondre, who has been a teacher at Jefferson High School the past 24 years. "Other than that, I just didn't think about it."

Tondre did overcome Hendrick's total on the final day to capture her first women's title with a 2,015 nine-game total, and also led her team, Snafu, to the Division 1 scratch and handicap crowns with respective 2,509 and 2,633 totals.

Tondre opened her championship run with a 693 series in the team event at Wonder. Her teammates Cindy Berlanga, Linda Stahl and Gail Gazdag had respective 625, 619 and 572 sets.

"I'm really excited about the city title," said Tondre, who was the SAWBA's Superior Performance winner for the 1998-99 season. "It's really a thrill to win. It was something I really wasn't expecting. I just wanted to bowl well."

Tondre, a 205-average bowler, had games of 220, 223 and 183 for a 636 set in doubles and efforts of 214, 217 and 255 for a 686 series in singles at University. Hendricks did get some consolation by emerging as the Division 1 handicap all-events champion with a 2,179 total.

Tondre's championship run overshadowed the record-setting performances of Laurie Jo Scales and Maureen Tatsch in Division 1 doubles. Scales had 257-654 and Tatsch 243-689 for a winning 1,343 score, which surpassed the previous mark by 40 pins. Scales and Tatsch also claimed the handicap crown with a 1,383 total.

Charlotte Minor had games of 278, 211 and 227 for a 716 scratch series to win Division 1 singles. Minor's 764 handicap score was also tops in the division.

Minor's series, however, ranked No. 2 in the tournament, last year's city champion Linda Urbanek had games of 226, 300 and 194 for a 720 set in the team event Saturday. Urbanek rolled the meet's only perfect game.

ON BOWLING

■ Lane Notes/10D

Only a handful of people paid their last respects to Helen Baetz during memorial services at the Porter Loring Chapel on Dec. 1.

If she were alive, the gracious lady with the easy smile and the heartwarming personality wouldn't have had it any other way.

Baetz, 88, died in a Goliad nursing home on Nov. 21. Private services were held a week prior to the memorial.

Few bowling fans realized the lady who had meant so much to women, junior and senior bowlers was gone.

Baetz spearheaded the development of the Texas Women's Bowling Association and was the TWBA's first secretary from 1945 to 1966. She was a life member of the TWBA and was elected to the TWBA Hall of Fame.

She extended her influence and love for the game to the Women's International Bowling Congress as an elected member of that organization's board of directors in 1952. She was on the board until 1976. During that period, she was appointed fifth vice president of the women's governing body in 1962 and became the third vice president in 1974.

What was so impressive about Baetz was her dedication to her family, to bowling and to the Alamo Heights United Methodist Church. She never hesitated in volunteering her services — including her notable cooking skills — to youth and other civic organizations, and she loved her religious music.

Clarence Baetz, her husband of more than 50 years, and her son, Richardson, both preceded her in death.

Baetz, working with Milton Raymer in the early 1950s, set up the first instructors' school for the American Junior Bowling Association, forerunner of the state's Young American Bowling Alliance organization. She served as chairman and state supervisor of the AJBA from 1953 to 1962 and was secretary of the AJBA group.

She also established the Simon Trophy for senior bowlers.

Then there was her writing.

Baetz was a member of the National Women's Bowling Writer's Association and was that organization's secretary from 1967 to 1976. She also created the Across-Texas Lanes news bulletin.

Baetz, who competed in 50 WIBC national tournaments, was elected to the WIBC Hall of Fame in 1977. She was the second San Antonio resident elected, following Violet E. "Billy" Simon's induction in 1960.

Baetz was quick to thank anyone for a job well done, and offered a soft-toned response if she disagreed with someone. She was seen as a class act in bowling. That's why it might have seemed odd that fewer than 55 people were at her memorial.

But Baetz, who moved from San Antonio to Goliad in 1998 because of her failing health, accomplished much for bowling without much fanfare — always behind the scenes. She didn't care for the spotlight; she just wanted positive results.

Her quiet passing and services were probably what she had in mind.

News from the San Antonio Lanes

Hall of Famer

A longtime well-known kegler, Malcolm Meek Sr., is the newest member of the San Antonio Bowling Hall of Fame.

Meek will be inducted into the select group at a San Antonio Bowling Council banquet Feb. 17 at the Old San Francisco Steak House.

He joins 40 other surviving Alamo City men and women bowlers in the select group.

City Champ Adds Perfecta

Phyllis Tondre added to her recent all events title in the City Women's Championship Tournament by compiling a 300 game in league play at the Astro Bowl.

With her perfect game, she joins Linda Urbanek, the 2000 city all events champ, and Barbara Fincke as the other women bowlers reaching the 300-pin-nacle in league this season. Urbanek also had a 12-bagger in the 2001 city women's tourney.

Thousand Oaks, and Hulme prevailed over Robert Berkle, 258-208, in the finals, also at Thousand Oaks.

San Antonio WBA

by Teresa Cantu, Publicity

In March, the San Antonio Women's Bowling Association held their annual meeting at University Bowl. Elections of new officers, directors, and delegates were held. On August 1 the following assumed their new positions on the SAWBA board: President-Jane Wright, First VP-Elfi Tomczyk, Second VP-Yolanda Barrientes, Third VP-Jeanette Bradfield, and Sgt-At-Arms-Margaret Eckart. First Vice President Yasuko Whitesell had decided to "retire" from our Board of Directors this past July and did not seek re-election at our annual meeting. We wish her well!

Two outstanding women bowlers were also celebrated at our yearly meeting. Linda Urbanek was honored as the San Antonio Bowler of the Year and was also named the TWBA Bowler of the Year at the annual TWBA meeting held in Lubbock this past June. Jerilyn Keller was acknowledged for her first place finish in the qualifying trials of the US Deaf Bowling Federation in Rochester, NY. Her performance in the trials enabled her to represent the US in the World Games for the Deaf held in Rome, Italy in July. She and her teammates won the gold. A donation was made to help defray her travel costs.

Eleven senior teams were driven to Lubbock for the opening squad of the TWBA State Tournament. Some of our board members catered to the senior bowlers, who were chauffeured by bus. The ladies were served lunch, then entertained by playing bingo and winning prizes. The teams were met that Friday evening at the bowling center by a sandstorm, which are rampant in Lubbock.

Outgoing President Elsie Mitchell did not quietly "retire" in August. She was re-elected as President of the San Antonio Bowling Council. She was also elected as a director to the Texas 600 Club Board of Directors and to the Texas 20 Year Club. She has graciously accepted to return to our Board of Directors as a director.

A happy moment was receiving the first place blue ribbon and plaque for best local association poster (BVL) from the Texas Women's Bowling Writers at their meeting in Lubbock in June. We are very proud of our ladies!

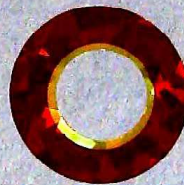

In October, our association held a bowling clinic at AMF Country Lanes. TWBA Director and Certified Coach Regina Loveall presented an informative and enjoyable clinic for our bowlers. With all the positive response generated from this clinic, we hope to offer another one real soon.

November saw our 63rd Annual City Championship Tournament. It was held over two weekends at AMF Wonder Lanes and University Bowl. We had some impressive bowling happening there! Phyllis Tondre cinched her first women's title with a 2015 nine-game total and also helped her team to the Div 1 Scratch and Handicap top spots with 2509 and 2633 respectively. Allison Hendricks took the Div 1 Handicap All-Events with a 2179. The record-setting feat of 1343 in Div 1 Doubles by Maureen Tatsch (243-689) and Laurie Jo Scales (257-654) exceeded the previous record by 40 pins. The duo also claimed the handicap winnings with a 1383 total. Charlotte Minor rolled games of 278, 211, and 227 for a 716 scratch series to win the Div 1 Singles. Her handicap score of 764 was also tops in the division. Linda Urbanek, last year's city champion, threw the tournament's only perfect game. All awards were handed out Dec 16 at a Christmas get-together.

Upcoming, we are looking forward to our City Senior League Mixed tournament to be held in January at Astro Bowl, the San Antonio Bowling Association/San Antonio Women's Bowling Association City Mixed Tournament to be held in March, and our annual meeting, also held in March.

On a sad note, we regret having to report the death of Helen Baetz, our "Yellow Rose of Texas". Helen passed away on Wednesday, November 21, 2001. A Memorial Service was held for her in San Antonio December 1. She will be greatly missed and fondly remembered.

REC SPORTS
ROUNDUP

The 99th American Bowling Congress Championships Tournament began its 135-day run Saturday in Billings, Mont.

The first of 10,806 five-player teams competed on opening day, which was highlighted by the traditional Joe Bowler ceremony.

Max Shellabarger, 47, from Roy, Utah, was crowned Joe Bowler and rolled the ceremonial first ball of the tournament.

"We've been bowling the opening night since 1994 and we just love it — it's a great tradition," Shellabarger said.

Joe Binder and Dave Dupont finished 12th and 18th, respectively, at the SASBA tournament at Fort Worth on Saturday. Binder earned $370 and Dupont $300, while Jim King of New Braunfels was 41st for $163. Bob Freehauf of Fair Oaks Ranch earned $160 as a super senior. Rick Minier of Cypress won the event for $1,200.

In the Jan. 26-27 event at Conroe, King finished fifth for $600, Freehauf ninth for $400, Walt Banks of Universal City ended 20th for $280, and Stan Workman collected $160 as a super senior. Casher Dale Eagle earned the first-place prize of $1,200.

Workman, King and Minier split $1,800 for third place in the Trio event at Dallas, Jan. 12-13. Freehauf teamed with Rick Talley and Tracy Patterson for ninth place and $600. Jerry Beavers, Bob McGregor and Henry Gonzalez won the event and $3,000.

Country Lanes manager Mike Vincent said this week that the center is not closing in the near future.

"I heard the rumors that we were closing as early as November," Vincent said. "Body Solutions Inc. had supposedly bought the property and was closing the center for its own reasons. However, I went to the Bexar County office to check our ownership and the trust that has owned us is still listed on the deed."

Lupe Rubie had a 184 spare game at Astro. ... Melinda Martin had her first 200 game and YABA bowler Jon Thompson had his first 200 game and 600 series with 255-628 at Oak Hills. ... Amy Huerta had her first 200 (201) at Wonder Lanes.

The BWAA selected Carolyn Dorin-Ballard as its woman bowler of the year and Parker Bohn III as the male bowler of the year.

Pete Weber converted the 3-4-6-7-10 split in the 10th frame to beat Roger Bowker 218-214 in the finals of the PBA Columbia 300 Tar Heel Open in Burlington, N.C. Weber is now tied with Bohn for fourth place on the all-time win list with 28.

The Professional Bowlers Association's Track Southwest Region Open will be held Saturday and Sunday at Astro Bowl.

The tournament, which already has attracted nearly 80 professionals, is also hoping to draw entries from the National Tour, which has a 135-man field

BOWLING

All but the 32 bowlers who will still be involved in match play at Dallas could make Saturday morning's opening round of qualifying for the Southwest Region.

Qualifying begins at 8 a.m. (A squad) and 10:30 p.m. (B squad) Saturday.

Headlining the tournament will be Mark Scroggins of Amarillo, Jeff Hartsfield of San Antonio and Marc "Smurf" Laracuente of Houston.

"We're hoping to get some of the big names," said Hartsfield, who was competing at the Dallas Open and distributing flyers there as well. "It would be good for bowling in the city."

The opportunity came when the event was canceled at Fort Bliss due to security reasons. Ironically, Hartsfield, who spearheaded the drive to bring the tournament to San Antonio, won this tournament last year at Fort Bliss.

Action starts today at Astro with a practice session for the pros scheduled from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. A pro-am, costing $20 for junior bowlers, $25 for seniors and $35 for adults, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Taking life in the slow lanes at Hermann Sons bowling alley

By HECTOR SALDANA
EXPRESS-NEWS STAFF WRITER

For the last couple of years, you couldn't hear a pin drop at Hermann Sons Bowling Lanes.

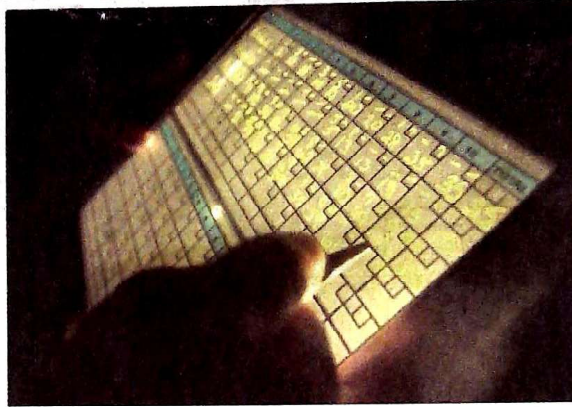

Closed 2½ years ago, the venerable bowling establishment has reopened two evenings a week, thanks, in part, to the nightlife revival of its neighborhood, Southtown, which borders the King William district. And thanks to the loving caretaker who refuses to let the lanes die.

"It's not a fancy house," says facility manager Martin "Sonny" Harms, who doubles as bartender.

Installed in 1949, the 20-lane bowling alley is located up a flight of stairs in the old fraternal lodge just south of downtown that houses two ballrooms and hosts senior bingo every weekend.

The feel is refreshingly retro. Nothing's automatic here. Games are $1.75. Shoes are 75 cents. Balls roll back above ground on rails between lanes. Score is kept by hand — and in your head.

Gutter guards? Forget it, kids must bowl seriously to score. Don't expect an arcade. The regulars whogather around the '50s-era tables enjoy things kind of slow and peaceful. Everybody is on a first-name basis with everyone else. If business is a little slow, the place closes at 10.

"People come here and they know it's unique, something different," says Sonny — nobody calls him Martin or Mr. Harms — who's 73. "They can't believe this deal of keeping score by hand. People think it's beautiful."

Restaurateur Roger Flores Jr., former City Councilwoman Debra Guerrero and former Guadalupe Cultural Arts Center board chairman Hector "Skip" Frausto count themselves part of the lanes' loyal fan club.

"We try to go every weekend," says Frausto. "When I get home on Friday night my little boy is all ready: 'Are we going bowling?' It's a good deal for the neighborhood."

Flores, 32, recalls the days when his grandfather, Enrique Guerrero, bowled there regularly.

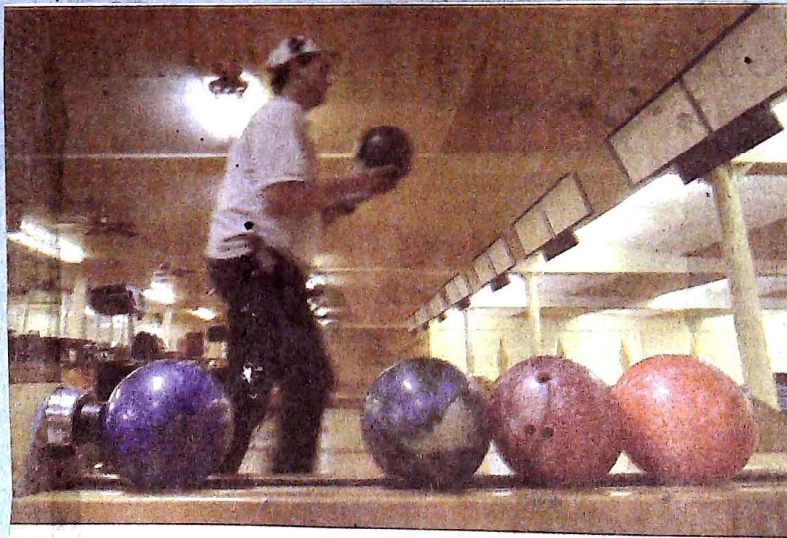

"It's the nostalgia of the place. It doesn't feel like your typical bowling alley," says Flores. "You go and you sit down on those seats, and they're carved wood, and the machines are old, and you have to know how to score. Scoring a bowling match is an art in itself."

Flores bowls at Hermann Sons with his son, Roger III, and appreciates the "really comfortable" old-fashioned family feel.

"It's not real noisy. It's kind of laid-back," says Flores. "There's one or two guys that do everything for you. They'll fix the pins. They'll sell you a beer. It's such a cool place."

Special events, such as a hip-hop vintage fashion show in January (hey, the lanes are close to artsy Southtown), have "worked out pretty nice," says Sonny.

S.A.'s Broyles wants WIBC post

BY HARRY PAGE
EXPRESS-NEWS STAFF WRITER

REC SPORTS ROUNDUP

San Antonio's Sylvia Broyles has a feeling, and she's acting on it. She's seeking the presidency of the world's largest female bowling organization, the Women's International Bowling Congress.

"That's the simple explanation why I am vying for the post in a nutshell."

Broyles, who has been an officer with the local, state and national organizations in some capacity since the mid-1960s, is running against Elaine Hagin of Castro Valley, Calif. Hagin is the WIBC's first vice president.

Broyles is the second vice-president — the highest administrative post attained by a Texan since the national group was organized in 1916. She was elected second vice president in 1996 and re-elected in 1999. She was elected to the Board of Directors in 1977.

The late Helen Baetz of San Antonio was the WIBC's third vice president in 1974.

The two are vying to replace retiring president Joyce Deitch. Between 2,500 and 2,700 delegates will be deciding the issue during morning voting April 24 in Milwaukee. The new president would begin her three-year term Aug. 1.

"Anybody who has gained the knowledge and has the experience I have from doing administrative work deserves to try for the position," said Broyles, who lives in Spring Branch. "I'm already doing a great deal of traveling and speaking in my current position with the WIBC."

The WIBC had 1,373,249 members during the 2000-01 season.

"With everything that's going on in the industry, including membership decline, I want to be in a position to have a say in any major decisions that are made concerning the game's future," Broyles said.

■ Stan Workman scored what is believed the highest-ever scratch total in the San Antonio Bowling Association's city senior tournament with 2,196 at Astro Lanes. Workman, who didn't get any pins handicap, finished third behind overall champion James Beaver, who had a handicap score of 2,267. . . . San Antonio's Jeff Hartsfield finished second in the RoofTec Southwest Region PBA Houston Open. . . . Joe Vito Buenrostro and Cherie Gayle combined for a 1,447 score to win the Jus Us mixed doubles tournament at Astro lanes. . . . Aurelio H. Ramirez Jr. was 117 pins over his average with a 277 game at Wonder.

■ Jennifer Besemer was 100 pins over her average with a 248 game, Jason Farias was 101 over with 255, and Ricky Nelson was 103 pins over with a 277 game during the junior city tournament. Anthony Giuliani had the top boys game and series with 279-718, Niambi Rivers rolled the top girls game with a 257, and Arielle Flores had the top girls series with 662.

Whether it's bunco or bowling, being active with peers and in the community is important for people with developmental disabilities, says Tina Tholl, director of San Antonio's therapeutic recreation program.

"People with mental retardation or other disabilities are just like you or me. If they stay inside all day, they'll go stir crazy," Tholl said.

For the past three decades, the Texas Department of Health and Mental Retardation, said contact with the general public allows the disabled to become more independent and "lessen misconceptions others may have about people with disabilities."

WHERE'S THE BOWLING NEWS ? WANT MORE BOWLING NEWS ?

OFF THE TOP

By Jim King

Since the 1980's, bowling has declined, both in popularity and as a professional sport. This fall has been well documented, discussed, and argued and hundreds of reasons have been put forth as contributing factors. We have laid blame on everyone and everything from increased competition from other sports and recreation. Rising costs. Mismanagement of major industry leaders, and insurance companies all the way to declining TV ratings, the Internet, modern technology and the North's migration to the Sunbelt.

There is one other area though, that I would like to discuss here: the decrease in the amount of newspaper coverage devoted to the sport of bowling across the United States. The number of column inches devoted to bowling is dropping at an even faster rate than league bowlers. Oh, I am sure most of you realize this, but I want to talk about who is to blame. Who is the culprit? Whose picture can we throw darts at? Whose name can we disparage?

Who do I feel is to blame for the rapidly escalating disappearance of bowling from the sports pages of American newspapers? Why, it's us, of course... you and I and every other ABC and WIBC member who cares whether bowling is included on the sports pages or not. We have stood idly by and let it be done to us. We just seem to sigh passively every time another bowling column bites the dust.

I travel extensively throughout our country and am, constantly amazed at the absence of coverage of the sport that we love whenever I open the sports section of the local paper. Even newspapers in cities, long considered bastions of bowling's popularity, are discontinuing their regular bowling columns or cutting back to once a month or so, instead of weekly. Many of those that are still weekly are kept that way only because the column is written by a bowler or local association board member or by the bowling center itself. The newspapers just don't want to allocate any of their staff's precious time to cover our sport. Often, PBA and PWBA tournament results are used only as filler, when they need a tidbit to complete a column. Consequently, a local reader might see a partial first round result, nothing the second or third day, then the winner's score on the fourth day, excluding all other finalists.

This neglect and what I consider mistreatment of our sport, seems to spread unnoticed, unreported, unregarded, unobjected to, and generally about which there is unraised hell.

Can you imagine what would happen if the sports editor of the Metropolis Times or some other major newspaper decided to cut the golf coverage back to once a month?

There would be so much fussing and fist shaking and boycott threatening and letters to the editor writing that the paper would be forced to change their mind... pronto. Yet when this does happen to bowling—and it is at an alarming rate—nobody objects.

If it continues, bowling will be relegated to the miscellaneous section of every newspaper... maybe not even on the sports page... maybe under the bridge column. Come to think of it, why does bridge have a daily column in most major newspapers? There are certainly more bowlers than bridge players.

It seems that one of the specific duties and responsibilities of your local bowling association is to be an advocate for the sport. If this happens or has already happened in your community, your local association officers should be banging at their door, lobbying for equal time. In fact, they should already be there now, lobbying for more time. The last time I checked, we are still the number one participant sport in the country, and should have coverage accordingly.

Coverage decisions regarding the sports sections of high-city newspapers are not necessarily driven by which sport is most popular. Many of the decisions are politically based. Sometimes, a paper may cover an obscure high school sport, not because the sport is enjoyed by many people, but because they have been lobbied and pressured and nudged into providing this coverage by local educational and minority groups.

Some sports are covered simply because the movers and shakers who buy advertising participate or have family members who participate in that particular sport. The column inches are certainly not divided up based on fan interest and popularity. If they were, bowling would not be suffering in this area. So, if you want to see this trend reversed, then some action must be taken.

If your local association does not have a plan of action or mission statement to raise public awareness of the sport of bowling, I suggest you take the initiative and try to get one started. If the officers in power refuse to do so, I urge you to try to elect officers who have a more proactive attitude about the deterioration of bowling's presence on the sports pages of America. In the meantime, please support your local bowling newspaper. These may soon become our only source of bowling news and information.

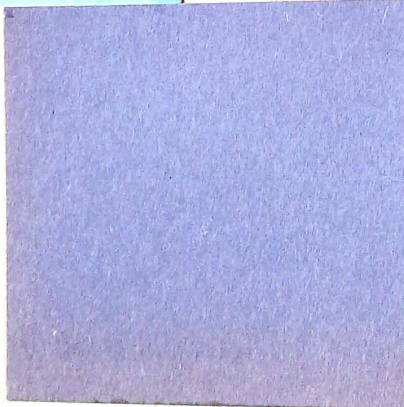

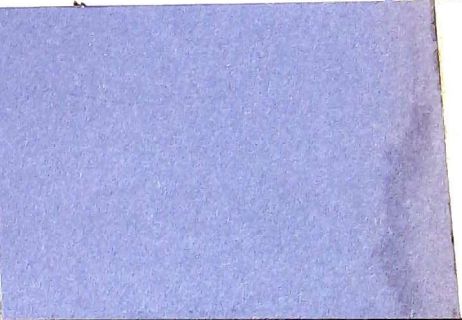

Of course, the coverage in magazines and on network television has declined also, but that problem is more easily solved by ABC/WIBC on the national level. You can lobby your local television station, if you have one, for more airtime, but changing the attitude of the newspaper in your hometown is something that is possible, achievable, praiseworthy, and in my opinion, incumbent.

Carolyn Dorin-Ballard honored by website

PWBA Player of the Year Carolyn Dorin-Ballard has been named Woman of the Year for 2001 by Womensportsonline.com., a women's sports website. Alissa Wykes of the National Women's Football League champion Philadelphia Liberty Belles was named first runner-up.

The other nominees included Venus Williams, Annika Sorenstam and the founding players of the WUSA.

Dorin-Ballard, 37, won a record seven PWBA titles in 2001 and 17 career titles in 11 seasons. She also led the tour in earnings with $139,045, including television bonuses and scoring average at 214.73.

As president of the PWBA Players Association Dorin-Ballard was at the forefront during a dispute with the Bowling Proprietors Association of America over the size of the purse at the U.S. Open. Because of a licensing agreement with the PBA, the men's purse at the Open was scheduled to be $350,000 while the women were to bowl for $187,500. In addition, the men were to receive a 90-minute block of television time on ESPN and the women none at all, a break from the usual custom of equally splitting the television block between the two events.

The PWBA players, led by Dorin-Ballard, threatened to boycott the U.S. Open unless the situation was corrected. In the end, the women's purse was boosted to $350,000 to equal the men and the women also received a 90-minute block of live television air time.

"That incident showed Carolyn's commitment to her sport and her peers," said Womensportsonline.com's Rick Woelfel. "She could have said 'This is how I support myself, so I'm going to bowl,' but she understood what the insistence on an equal purse would mean to the long-term growth of her sport.

"The entire U.S. Open situation will be something that will be listed as one of the most significant moments in not just bowling history, but the evolution of women's sports."

"I'm very proud of what happened this year for the PWBA," Dorin-Ballard said, in a statement. "Our tour members showed the world of women's sports that as a group, women can fight for what they believe is fair. Our U.S. Open was not only a victory for our players but for women's sports in general.

"I really feel like my year was as successful for bowling as it was for me personally. Our sport doesn't get nearly the kind of national attention it deserves. I can only hope that a lot of these organizations that have recognized me in the last year continue to pay attention to the PWBA."

San Antonio woman elected WIBC president

San Antonian Sylvia L. Broyles was elected president of the Women's International Bowling Congress during a meeting of delegates Wednesday at the Midwest Express Center in Milwaukee.

Broyles, who has been the WIBC's second vice president for the past nine years and secretary-treasurer of the Texas Women's Bowling Association, received 1,641 votes to 980 for first vice president Elaine Hagin of Castro Valley, Calif. The vote came hours before the delegation voted to delay considering any action on the proposed single membership organization until 2004.

"I pledge to you I will make every effort to work for women bowlers," Broyles told the delegates. "I will continue to listen to you but also will speak my mind."

Broyles, who maintains her TWBA office in Spring Branch, replaces the retiring Joyce Deitch of Las Vegas, who had served since 1993. Broyles' three-year term becomes effective Aug. 1.

SAN ANTONIAN PICKED FOR TOP WIBC POST
Congratulations to San Antonio's Sylvia Broyles on her election as president of the Women's International Bowling congress. She rises to WIBC's top post after serving nine years as second vice president. Broyles, who has been secretary-treasurer of the Texas Women's Bowling Association for 15 years, will begin her three-year WIBC term of office on Aug. 1. She now resides in Bulverde, on the outskirts of the Alamo City.

ONE CLOSES - ANOTHER REOPENS

San Antonio has lost a bowling center with the closing of the AMF Spare Time Lanes - a 32-lane establishment opened in 1960 as the Billy Mitchell Lanes. The shutdown last year of neighboring Kelly AFB was greatly attributable to Spare Time's demise. Meanwhile, the Hermann Sons Bowling Lanes, in the heart of the city, has reopened on a part time basis after being closed for two and one half years. The 20-lane facility, which dates back to 1949, is being managed by Martin "Sonny" Harms.

MARATHON BOWLING MARK

The Alamo City's Duane Weeks has applied for the Guinness Book of Records in the marathon bowling category after bowling consecutively for 39 hours and nine minutes at the Wonder Lanes. The listed record is 37 hours and eight minutes.

PARRISH CAPTURES MILITARY TITLE

Trish Parrish, stationed at Lackland AFB in San Antonio, won the gold medal in women's singles and finished second in women's all events at the U.S. Armed Forces Championships at Fort Jackson, SC. She was a member of the Air Force team for the second consecutive year. The USAF team, which repeated as the military services champion, was coached by the Alamo City's Chuck Hall.

Ms Broyles, who has served as a WIBC vice president for the past nine years will assume the duties of her new office on August 1 for an initial three year term.

Broyles elected eighth WIBC president

Sylvia Broyles' election as WIBC's eighth president highlighted the 2002 WIBC Annual Meeting, where delegates celebrated the past and raised concerns about the future of their organization.

The 2,696 who gathered at the Midwest Express Center in downtown Milwaukee April 19-24 also helped donate $706,000 to fight breast cancer, celebrated the upcoming retirement of President Joyce Deitch and voted to postpone any decision on the single membership organization concept until 2004.

These actions came amid numerous seminars, demonstrations and booths designed to update them on the current state of the sport. Delegates approved 11 amendments, rejected four and had two withdrawn during the legislative session. But with no major amendments or resolutions to deal with, that proved a minor segment of an otherwise whirlwind of information and celebration.

Broyles gains WIBC presidential post

Broyles — WIBC's 2nd vice president for the past nine years and Texas WBA secretary-treasurer — overcame WIBC 1st Vice President Elaine Hagin, Castro Valley, Calif., for the presidency. Broyles' term as president of WIBC begins Aug. 1.

Broyles, a Spring Branch, Texas, resident, replaces Deitch, Las Vegas, who had served since 1993 and who was elected life member of WIBC on the Annual Meeting's final day.

"I pledge to you I will make every effort to work for women bowlers," Broyles told the delegation. "I will continue to listen to you but also will speak my mind."

"My goals have to do with being flexible. I want to work with the industry to make it easier for women to become members of WIBC. I want to get the message across about what we want as women bowlers."

"I think she will do a great service," said Patricia Sikes, an Anchorage, Alaska, delegate. "She's very sincere. I believe her to be a hard-working woman."

Dorin-Ballard is still piling up the victories

Columbia, TN — Carolyn Dorin-Ballard made it two victories in a row April 14 by winning the $2,700 top prize in the Ebonite PWBA Quad Regional Open at Ebonite's Galaxy Lanes in Columbia, TN.

Dorin-Ballard, North Richland Hills, won the PWBA Mixed Doubles with her husband Del

Ballard Jr. in Port Arthur in March. In this event she defeated 2001 U.S. Open champion Kim Terrell, Antioch, CA, 268-206, in the championship match to earn the victory. Both Dorin-Ballard and Terrell are members of the Ebonite pro staff, sponsors of the event. Terrell earned $1,400 for her second-place finish.

Marcia Kamrowski, Boca Raton, FL, took the third spot for $1,100, and Char Hammel, Brea, CA, finished fourth for $900.

In matches leading up to the title game, Terrell defeated Hammel, 277-268, and Kamrowski, 256-202. There were two 300 games in the event, by Kamrowski and Hammel.

This inaugural PWBA event came on the heels of the first-ever women's pro bowlers training camp. The camp, held Monday through Thursday at Galaxy Lanes, was also presented by Ebonite.

"I am ready for the national tour to start," said Ballard after the victory. "After the long break, winning here gives me a lot of confidence to start the tour." Ballard won seven titles on the 2001 PWBA national tour and set an all-time record of 18 television appearances.

Area cashers included: 16 Daralynn Stewart, Dallas, $340; 19 Donna Conners, Houston, $250; 28 Whitney Choate, Waxahachie, $205.

The Air Force, coached by San Antonio's Chuck Hall, swept the Armed Forces Championships for the second consecutive year during competition at Fort Jackson, S.C., on April 15-19.

Hall, who also coached the winning squad last season, selected the Air Force squad from 40 bowlers for different Air Force reservations during a camp April 8-12 at Langley AFB, Va. The 12-member team, which included Trish Parrish, who is currently stationed at Lackland, was made up of six men and six women.

The men finished ahead of the Navy, Army and Marines, in that order, and the women ahead of the Army, Navy and Marines. The Air Force also won the combined title.

Parrish, also a member of the 2001 team, won the gold medal in the women's singles and finished second in women's all-events. Other members of the team were Carol McTaggart, who was stationed at Lackland several years ago, Toni Mula, Muriel Howell, Jodie Mustin and Clarice Fielder.

The men's team was led by Mike Terrell, Paul Aldrich, TEAM USA member Ricky Beck, Ron Hurt, Byron Randolph and Marty Bedford.

Phil Cardinale of DYNOTHANE sponsored the team with shirts and equipment.

At Astro Bowl, Lindsey

New Braunfels and Rick Talley of Enid, Okla., finished ninth for $800. Bob Freehauf of Fair Oaks Ranch teamed with Dennis Francis of Alvin to tie for 13th place and a split of $525. Walt Banks of Universal City and Dave Hoff of Canyon Lake earned $150 in tying for 15th place, and Jim King of New Braunfels teamed with Robert Gibbs of Abilene for 20th place and $350.

Broyles to Face New Opportunities

Excelling in high school, Sylvia was a majorette, first chair trombone player, managing editor of the high school paper, and industrious enough to graduate at 16. Feeling no shyness or reticence in entering the business field, she became the top student at her business school and was employed immediately upon graduation. She admits to being a bit boy-crazy, but that worked to our benefit. The boy across the street was a good bowler, and she decided to take it up too. The boy's loss was bowling's gain.

George Broyles was an employee of the same company as Sylvia. He asked her out for a date, and two months later, they married, just prior to George leaving for the service. She was 17, he was 20. Only taking time off to have her children, Sylvia returned to the work force. All her business life she aspired to being an executive secretary or administrative assistant. One job even afforded her the opportunity to learn to fly a plane, but her family asked her to decline. Even early on, Sylvia would not run away from a challenge.

While many have contributed to Sylvia's administrative career, she was introduced to this side of the sport by Jo Gebler, league coordinator for Southside Lanes in San Antonio. Jo told Sylvia, "San Antonio WBA needs us to go to this meeting," and, as they say, the rest is history. "I didn't like what I saw at the meeting and I have been talking ever since!" stated Sylvia.

Sylvia rose from the grassroots, serving SAWBA as a delegate to state and national conventions and as Scorekeeping Chairman for the 1968 WIBC Championship

by Regina Loveall and Donna Lonon

The chairman of the tellers committee took the microphone. "The majority required for election, 1313. Sylvia Broyles 1641, Elaine Hagin, 9?"

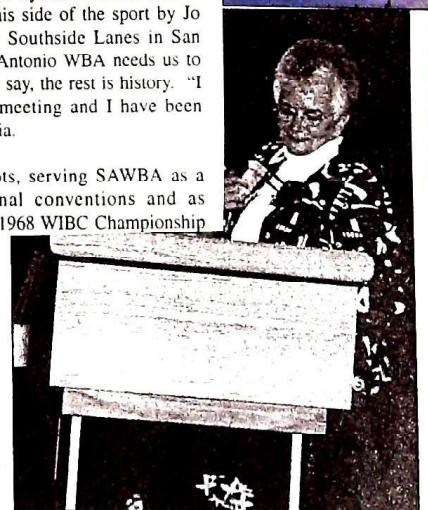

Sitting in the Texas delegation, we never heard the vote count. Pandemonium had broken through. Cheers, shouts, and whistles voiced our elation at Sylvia Broyles being elected the eight president of WIBC.

How did this woman, George's wife of 50 years, mother, grandmother, and close friend to countless number of bowlers, arrive at this pinnacle of success and responsibility?

"I have always looked at the good in everything, I can see the good side. I am a positive person," she said. "I am the luckiest person alive." She was very honest with me. She got me on the tournament staff, and we hit it off beautifully."

We guess that George gets the credit for planting the seed in Sylvia's mind about becoming WIBC President one day. George does not attend many annual meetings, but the one he did attend, Sylvia had led the delegation through difficult legislative decisions. George remarked to her that after seeing her handle herself so well during this session, he was confident she could be WIBC President. Her service on the Single Membership Task Force convinced her the seed had brought forth fruit. "I want to protect women bowlers. I understand their emotions, and how difficult it is to use your head over your heart. But women need to be in control of their destiny. The challenge is to know where we want to go and do our very best to get there."

Always self-confident, Sylvia feels she can do the job of WIBC President, mainly because of the training and mentoring she has received from the WIBC officers and directors and staff. "I told Roseann Kuhn, WIBC Executive Director, there is no I in TEAM, and I truly believe that." She feels very fortunate to have been able to work with so many different bowling entities, not only national but international as well.

Retiring President Joyce Deitch invites President-elect Sylvia Broyles to say a few words.

The next few years will be the most dramatic in WIBC history. The waters are choppy, and some of the crew are spouting "Abandon ship!" Our vessel is still seaworthy, and the majority of all hands believe in the journey. Most of us feel a lot easier in facing our expedition with Sylvia Broyles at the wheel. We salute you, Captain! Ron voyage!

TWBA Annual Award Winners

*Across Texas Lanes * Summer 2002*

While it is not unusual for TWBA to recognize two deserving ladies with the Service Award in the same year, this is the first time both recipients have been from the same association. Gail Cantu and Louise Mangelsdorf, San Antonio, share this honor for 2002.

Gail Cantu's career in bowling began 40-plus years ago and it is evident that her administrative abilities were recognized early in her career.

Her involvement locally began over fifteen years ago. She has served as a director, sergeant-at-arms, vice president, and is currently serving as secretary-treasurer.

She has served on many committees locally, including chairing legislative, policy and procedure, tournament rules, BVL, city mixed tournament, ways and means, to name but a few.

On a state level, Gail served on the nominating committee a couple of times and reading of the minutes committee. She has been a delegate to TWBA meetings many times. In 1988 she served as co-chair of the TWBA banquet committee as well as local publicity chair when the state tournament was in San Antonio.

Active in the satellite organizations, she is a life member of the Texas 600 Club. She is currently serving as director of the Texas Women Bowling Writers group. She serves on committees for the National Women Bowling Writers and the National 600 Club. Her honors include San Antonio WBA Service Award and San Antonio WBA Ten Year Award.

Louise Mangelsdorf has been bowling 27-plus years, and the majority of these have been in service to bowling. She served on the San Antonio WBA board of directors as first vice president for three years, third vice president for two, and secretary-treasurer for eight.

On a state level, Louise has served on the credentials and nominating committees, and also serves each year at the annual meeting as assistant sergeant-at-arms. She has been a delegate to TWBA and WIBC annual meetings for 19 years. She has served WIBC as a teller at the annual meeting.

Other honors include being named TWBA Secretary of the Year in 1987 and a member of the San Antonio Hall of Fame.

In 1993 Louise served as the US Olympic Festival opening ceremonies and awards chair. In 1995, she was chair of the Senior Sports Classic Awards committee.

A member of the Texas Women Bowling Writers, Texas 600 Club, Texas 20-Year Club, and a member of the local, state, and national 600 clubs, Louise is always available when asked to serve on a committee.

TWBA Annual Meeting

by Sally Chitwood

Arlington, Texas was the site of the TWBA 67th Annual Meeting on June 7, 2002. The real festivities began on Thursday, June 6th with the Fun Fair. This year's theme was "On the Road Again" - a tribute to Sylvia Broyles, retiring TWBA Secretary/Treasurer and newly elected WIBC President.

TWBA President Beverly McLendon opened the evening with a welcome to all the delegates and guests in attendance. Following her address, President McLendon then made a presentation in the amount of $4000 to the Susan G. Komen Foundation in honor of Sylvia, herself a breast cancer survivor.

After a video presentation by Landscape Concepts chronicling Sylvia's many years in bowling, TWBA Director and Fun Fair Chairman, Donna Lonon, introduced the entertainment portion of the evening. Assisting Donna were various versions of Willie Nelson hilariously played by WIBC President Joyce Deitch, TWBA Past President Doris Coffman, Texas State Bowling Association Executive Director Jimmy Cline, Bowling Inc. Field Rep. Joseph Haynes, WIBC and TWBA Hall of Famer Susie Reichley, TWBA office assistant Lori Stein and George Broyles, Sylvia's husband. Each "Willie" introduced a fun-filled act from Houston, Mineral Wells, Ft. Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, Arlington and Texas WBAs. Each skit was inventive and portrayed some influence Sylvia has had on their respective associations. At times, the bits were so hilarious, Sylvia was wiping the tears of laughter from her face.

Following the skits were some special moments shared by various members of different bowling organizations such as Doris Coffman, Jimmy Cline, Joseph Haynes, Lori Stein, TWBA 1st Vice President Sue Hunter and last, but certainly not least, George Broyles. Sylvia's daughter Brenda also said a few words. Interspersed with humor, everyone spoke with affection and pride about Sylvia, and although she is retiring from the TWBA Board, wished her luck on her new role as WIBC President.

Closing the evening, a toast was made by Pres. McLendon to our much loved secretary/treasurer for her many years of service to TWBA and to her future as the leader of WIBC. If our experiences with Sylvia here in Texas are anything to go by, the leadership of women's bowling is in great hands. We are in for a bright future under Sylvia's guidance. As someone said in their remarks, "Texas' loss is WIBC's gain".

The TWBA 67th Annual Meeting was called to order by President Beverly McLendon at 9:00 a.m. on June 7, 2002 at the Hilton Arlington. Following a moving memorial service remembering all those we have lost was the Presentation of Colors, after which the Pledge of Allegiance was recited.

Pres. McLendon then introduced the TWBA Board of Directors, TWBA Life Members, Members Emeritae, and special guest, WIBC President Joyce Deitch. Pres. Deitch extended greetings to the delegation from WIBC in her usual concise manner interspersed with humorous remarks. As outgoing president, the delegates showed their affection and respect by giving Joyce a standing ovation.

Beth McHenry, President of Arlington WBA, welcomed the delegation to the city of Arlington, bringing with her an hourglass to be sure her speech did not run over the time limit!

After various committee and officer reports a special presentation was made to Lori Stein, TWBA office assistant, in honor of her many years of service to the organization. Immediately following the presentation and during the Report of the Board of Directors, the name of Sylvia Broyles was placed before the delegation for consideration as a TWBA Life Member. After the appropriate motion and second, Sylvia was unanimously elected Life Member. Retiring TWBA Director Charlene Scheel and past 2nd Vice President Pat Lauder were overwhelmingly (and unanimously) approved as Members Emeritae by the delegates.

Each year TWBA presents awards in various categories. This year's recipients were: Proprietor of the Year - Penny Jo Larkin, El Paso; Youth Service Award - Marla K. Bennett, Houston; Volunteer of the Year - Donna Hall, Houston; and Service Award winners Gail Cantu and Louise Mangelsdorf both of San Antonio.

Texas Women Bowling Writers President Syleta Halbert also presented writing awards for Association Highlights, won by Harry Nixon of Texas Tenpins, and the Association Newsletter award, which was presented to Amarillo's Ten Pin Highlights. This year, for the first time, the Writer of the Year award winner was not notified in advance of her achievement and a very surprised Gail Cantu came forward to accept the honor.

Following the awards presentations, Secretary Broyles reported that since no letter of invitation had been received from any city for the 2005 tournament, Austin was being asked to consider hosting that year's tournament. Director Pam Sanchez reported that the host hotel for the TWBA 2004 tournament would be the Kadisson Hotel & Conference Center - Hobby Airport Houston.

After the reports regarding tournament information, the election of officers and directors was held. Elected by acclamation were 2nd Vice President Mary Louise Young and Secretary/Treasurer Pam Sanchez. The six nominees for the four directors slots were incumbents Donna Lonon, Sally Chitwood, and Mary Burns, Jane Wright, Mary Ann Parker, and Patricia Smith, who was nominated from the floor. Elected as Directors #9, #10, #11, and #12 were Lonon, Chitwood, Burns, and Wright. Prior to the convention, Director Charlene Scheel had stated that she would not be seeking reelection. Pres. McLendon also informed the delegation that she would not be seeking re-election in 2003.

After the selection of Beverly McLendon as state delegate to the 2003 WIBC Annual Meeting and Sue Hunter as alternate, Pres. McLendon granted a special privilege to Deb West who presented a scrapbook to Sylvia. Mrs. McLendon then announced the appointment of the 2002-2003 Nominating Committee - Gail Cantu, San Antonio, Chair, Judy Haas, Arlington, Lori Prouty, Texas City/LaMarque; Lynn Hoffland, Montgomery County; and Mary Terrell, Ft. Worth. Following the Golden Pin ceremony with Arlington WBA wishing Dallas WBA good luck on next year's tournament, the meeting was recessed until the banquet later that evening.

The Hall of Fame Banquet was also held at the Arlington Hilton on the evening of June 7, 2002. During the banquet, wonderfully hosted by the Arlington WBA, there were more awards to be given. After the sumptuous meal, Billy Phillips of the Texas 20 Year Club introduced Sarah Zinn of Houston as the Miss Youth Texas Bowler. After a heart-wrenching speech given by Sarah, which included thanks to her parents, step parents and her recently deceased grandfather, who all were great supporters, the entire room gave Miss Zinn a standing ovation. What a remarkable young woman!

TWBA Director Regina Loveall then presented Carolyn Dorin-Ballard of Ft. Worth as the TWBA Bowler of the Year. Due to prior commitments, Carolyn was unable to attend the banquet. TWBA Sgt. At Arms, Jo Ann Burkhart then read the names of those TWBA Hall of Famers in attendance. They came forward. Each was given a rose to make a walkway for newest TWBA Hall of Fame inductee, Jean Cope of Houston. After reading Jean's many accomplishments, Jo turned the microphone over to Jean, who then made her acceptance speech, thanking her family for their support and the friends she has made along the way of her extensive bowling career.

At the end of the evening, the meeting was closed as it always is with a heartfelt rendition of "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You". And so it goes, another year's festivities come to an end. The wonderful ladies of Arlington WBA made everyone feel welcome and did a spectacular job this year. Our hats off to you Arlington!

San Antonio WBA

by Teresa Cantu, Publicity

It has been a busy year for the San Antonio WBA. On Jan 26-27 we hosted our Senior League Mixed Handicap tournament at Astro Bowl. The first place team was Senior Champions with a 2825. Mary Ricks took the women's singles division with a 756, and Pamell Broome was the men's singles champ with a 783. All-events women's winner was Angie Vader Poorten with a 1515, and Roy Ressel took the men's all-events with a 1505. Those seniors can really "kegle" those pins!

In February, many of our board members attended the Women In Leadership (WIL) workshop that was held in San Antonio. Those that attended had high praise for the workshop. They learned many interesting and exciting new things, and hope to introduce them to all our board members. Ever heard of "Who Moved My Cheese"?

March, by far, was our busiest month. It found us holding our annual BVL league tournament to raise much needed funds for our local veterans' hospital. Our BVL committee also decorated bags to use during our tournaments for "Missed Spare" change to add a little extra to our BVL contribution. On St. Patrick's Day, we held our annual membership meeting at AMF County Lanes. This meeting was preceded by a scotch doubles "Luck of the Irish" tournament, in which all participants had the best time!

Election of officers and directors was held during our annual meeting. Incumbents Elfi Tomczyk, First VP; Jeanette Bradfield, Third VP; and Joan Coleman, director, kept their respective offices. New board members elected as directors were Lori Stein, Billie Wheeler, and Dolores Walker McCarty. As exciting as those elections were, the highlights of the meeting was the induction of Elsie Mitchell and Helen Kalala as Life Members, as well as the presentation of our 10 year award and the SAWBA Service award to Yasuko Whitesell. March was also the month in which we held our mixed tournament at Astro Bowl. The first place team was Maxie Crew with a score of 2715. Carla Meyer and Charles Mann took the first place in doubles with a total of 1461.

On April 12, five of our ladies accompanied 42 senior league bowlers on a chartered bus to the opening squad of the TWBA state tournament in Arlington. As always, the ladies were entertained, playing bingo, winning wonderful prizes, and being served drinks and snacks during the trip. A few lucky ladies even had the chance to attend a baseball game.

As all of you know, our local member Sylvia Broyles was elected as the next President of WIBC. It was a proud time for all Texas delegates at the annual meeting held in WIBC's hometown of Milwaukee, WI. As a celebration, our association board of directors treated Sylvia to a dinner at her favorite restaurant...Alamo Cafe.

In April, we said goodbye to a local bowling establishment. AMF Spare Time Lanes closed its' doors April 30. We thank them for their many years of serving the San Antonio bowlers.

The beginning of June was very exciting for our local association. At the annual TWBA convention in Arlington, two of our very special ladies, Gail Cantu, Secretary/Treasurer, and Louise Mangelsdorf, Life Member, were both awarded the 2002 TWBA Service Award. This is the first time that this award has been given to two women from the same association, and they are both most deserving of it. Just a note, years ago they bowled on the same team and have been close friends since. As a gesture of our deep appreciation, our board presented them with gifts of silver earrings from James Avery. Gail was also honored, and surprised, by her win of the "Writer of the Year" award from the Texas Women's Bowling Writers. Harry Nixon, San Antonio, was honored with an ATL award for his Texas Tenpin Bowling Association column. The election of our local association President Jane Wright as a director to the TWBA board was also a high point for us at Arlington. We want to wish her good luck with her new position, and congratulations to all winners!

With the ending of our season, we look forward to another year of serving our San Antonio women bowlers and WITC members. All the New Braunfels WITC bowlers and staff are looking forward to a great season.

In the Texas Women's Bowling Association's state event in the Arlington/Grand Prairie area, Rachel Perez of San Marcos maintained her second-place position in Division 1 all events with 2,023 and third-place spot in singles with a 704 set.

Bowling

Local women's association secretary-treasurer Gail Cantu and past secretary Louise Mangelsdorf were awarded the Texas Women's Bowling Association's Service Award at the TWBA annual meeting in Arlington recently.

Cantu also received the "Writer of the Year" award and Harry Nixon of San Antonio was named the "Across the Lanes" Association Highlights award winner by the state women bowling writers. Jane Wright, president of the local association, was elected as a director to the TWBA board during the meeting.

The San Antonio Police Officers' Association has scheduled its "Bowl A Hop To The Beat of the '50s and '60s" benefit tournament July 27 at Bandera Bowl. Shift times are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 2 to 6 p.m., and will feature five-person teams. Minimum donation is $250 per team, and entry deadline is July 20. For information call (210) 822-4428.

EXTRA STRIPE FOR STRIKER

One of San Antonio's top women keglers, LaRonda Dixon, stationed at Lackland AFB in the Air Force, had the thrill of having her new staff sergeant stripes pinned on her by PBA star Parker Bohn III.

The promotion presentation came at the Armed Forces Tournament in Virginia Beach, VA, where Dixon finished second in women's all events.

LaRonda had the further thrill of seeing a photo of the stripe-pinning ceremony on the front cover of the April-May issue of ABC's Bowling Magazine.

She continues to compile top scores on the lanes, hitting 256-654 at Bandera Bowl and 249-637 at Spare Time Lanes.

Meanwhile, LaRonda's mother, Gloria, gained some attention of her own with a 235-646 set at Spare Time.

TOURNEY TITLIST

Charlie Burke captured first place in the Alamo City Eliminator Memorial Day Tournament at Astro Bowl. The southpaw keglers survived five rounds in the finals, ending with 252 to claim the title. In the final match, Burke defeated Stan Bowers, who had 200 plus 36 = 236, and Wes Richardson, with 225 plus 1 pin handicap for a 226 total.

Another Season, Another Bowling Year

Gail Cantu Secretary / Treasurer SA WBA

Welcome back to everyone and we look forward to helping you get your leagues "on a roll" so to speak. We have been very busy since our trip to Milwaukee for the annual WIBC Meeting. It was a meeting never to forget and I wish that every bowler could have been there. It was Joyce Deitch's last to conduct and it was a very exciting moment for Texas as San Antonio's WIBC member and TWBA's state secretary was elected President of the WIBC!! Yes, congratulations to our own Sylvia Broyles. To honor Sylvia as the new WIBC President, the San Antonio Women's Bowling Association along with the San Antonio Bowling Association would like to invite all our league bowlers to a Wine & Cheese Reception Sunday, August 25th from 2-4 pm at Lions Field Community Center at Broadway and Mulberry. Please let your fellow bowlers know.

There are no changes in office procedures or dues ($14.00). The membership cards will again be mailed directly from bowling headquarters and most awards will be processed through our office.

A great big welcome to all New Braunfels bowlers who have now joined our association and Paramont Bowl will be sanctioned through San Antonio. On a more somber note, we had to say "Good-Bye" to AMF Spare Time Lanes which closed its' doors at the end of April.

If you wish to contact us by "E"-mail, our address is: sanantoniowba@aol.com. Also, please have a look at our new "Web" page: www.bowlingsa.com. We hope it will give you information in a timely manner and we would appreciate any "special" information you may think as website material. Just call!

The Texas Motto (according to a House Resolution) is FRIENDSHIP.

That's Us!

The SAWBA BVL committee along with SAWBA and SABA board director members hosted inpatients at the Audie L. Murphy Veteran's hospital in San Antonio, TX to an indoor picnic on June 29, 2002. SAWBA director Delores Walker entertained the patients singing favorite and patriotic songs, bingo was played and a generous picnic fare was served. A happy atmosphere prevailed over the event. All in all it was a successful gathering; the patients and hosts enjoyed themselves immensely.

WIBC president Broyles' work started early

By HARRY PAGE

REC SPORTS ROUNDUP

Considering the way she has been working for the past few months, it's hard to imagine that Sylvia Broyles of San Antonio officially assumed her duties as president of the Women's International Bowling Congress on Aug. 1.

She was elected to the nation's highest female bowling post in April.

"To be honest, I've been working since the day I was elected," Broyles said. "I was involved in meetings to prepare for the position. We prepare our programs and objectives a year in advance."

Instead of working from the WIBC national headquarters in Greendale, Wis., a Milwaukee suburb, the new president will be occupying an office on the 27-acre spread where she and her husband, George, live in Bulverde. The WIBC executive mail will still list Spring Branch (where the post office is located) as the official address. Her WIBC office number in Bulverde is (830) 438-9325.

"Thanks to modern technology, I can work from home," Broyles said. "I have my computer system at home, and I never go anywhere without my laptop."

"I do have an administrative assistant in Wisconsin, and I'm never out of touch with the main body in Wisconsin. It's like having an office on the other side of the building. Of course, the other side is a couple of thousand miles away."

Broyles retired as the longtime secretary of the Texas Women's Bowling Association. The TWBA is now under direction of Pam Sanchez in Midland. The new number for the TWBA is (915) 634-4900.

"One of my main goals is to have a single membership organization as a successful venture," Broyles said. "However, it's not what I want but what the delegates want. Consolidating the men's association, women's and youth organization under one membership umbrella would promote the game."

"Our volunteer force has been decreasing over the years. We all want bowling to be a success, and combining all organizations would stimulate our volunteer forces."

The WIBC delegates, however, elected to delay a vote on the single membership initiative to 2004 at its annual meeting in Milwaukee in April, after Broyles was elected the group's eighth president.

"Even though I support SMO (single membership organization), I still want to retain the recognition for women as far as competitive play and recognition are concerned."

"My second goal is to review our performance levels. We want to provide women with more leadership roles in the industry."

The San Antonio Women's Bowling Association is honoring Broyles with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Aug. 25 at the Lions Field Community Center at Brackenridge Park. For more information on the event call the association at (210) 490-6010.
